MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM ROBINSON NURSERY

I am writing this on December 4th, 2007 and Oregon is just recovering from a major flood. Fortunately most Oregonians are used to this and we have no major damage. Our digging season started off with 2 - 3 inches of rain in the third week of October followed by the nicest November for digging that I can remember. We are currently two-thirds dug for spring and all the guys are grading. The weather is calling for four nice days so we will be back out with the diggers tomorrow.

This is a time of the year when I like to reflect back and be thankful for all of our blessings. Our 2 boys Chris and Josh are graduating from Linfield College in the spring. They are planning on coming back to help at the nursery. We are very excited about that. Our oldest daughter Jenny and her husband Jason are living in Portland with our awesome grandson Jake who is 14 months old. Our youngest daughter Nikki is due in 3 weeks with a girl and grandpa and grandma can't wait. My wife Roxanne is the love of my life and I feel lucky. I am proud of them all. 2007 was a great year for our family.

We are a very fortunate Nursery. We have a group of dedicated employees that make coming in to work rewarding and fun. They create an atmosphere of trying to improve our product and production cycles. Our salespeople are some of the best. Growing trees and shrubs is a value added business that makes a difference in our world and is very enjoyable. We have a great group of customers whose input is helping us to improve and succeed.

We are looking forward to the holidays as a family. It has been a long time since little hands removed all of the ornaments off the lower 2 feet of the Christmas Tree. We will have our traditional birthday party for Jesus and celebrate Him as our Lord and Savior. It is great to have family traditions.

We hope you have an awesome holiday and are touched by the deep meaning of Christmas. A little over 2000 years ago we were presented with the ultimate present...the baby Jesus who would grow to save His people from sin and offer a way for us to be together forever in Heaven.

We want to extend a warm thank you for supporting Robinson Nursery.

Have a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.
