

FEATURED PLANTS:

HYDRANGEA VANILLA STRAWBERRY™

Numbers were limited last year for this very popular tree form; however, we are excited to announce, this show stopper is now in full production. A Bailey Nursery's First Editions® boasting beautiful blooms that begin vanilla-white, change to perfect pink and mature a stunning strawberry-red. The striking red color lasts for three to four weeks; which is longer than most hydrangeas of this variety. This allows new blooms to create a dramatic multi-colored show that continues through the summer and into the early fall.

KOELREUTERIA PANICULATA (GOLDEN RAIN TREE)

Goldenrain trees are cold-hardy, tolerant of urban conditions, drought, and adapt to a wide range of soils. Grown in air root pruning containers these excellent shade trees transplant easily. Goldenrain trees are not only durable, but lovely throughout the seasons. Brilliant yellow flowers appear in spring and last well into the summer. After the flowers fade, beautiful clusters of lantern-shaped seed pods transition from pink to yellow; and in the fall, the bright green leaves become bright yellow, sometimes orange-yellow. A beautiful tree with much to offer.

CAN YOU DIG IT?

We are always looking for ways to make our processes more efficient and cost effective. Field harvesting is typically a labor intensive fight against the elements and a delicate race against the clock. In preparation for this year's harvest we have added another H7 Bare Root Tree Digger from GK Machines, Inc. The H7 puts out just over 440 lbs. of torque at 1,500 RPM. The variable speed oscillating shaker arm efficiently removes soil and debris from the root structure. This addition to our fleet will allow us to maintain a constant work flow, as well as, reduce the number of employees in each crew. When mother nature rains down and turns the soil to sludge, we are prepared to have your trees for you when you need them.

SHARP SHOOTERS

A very successful bow hunting season this year for Rick Robinson and his son, Josh Robinson. "We hunt in Eastern Oregon, where the elk are in rut in September." Rick explained, "A few cow elk calls and we had bulls come into shooting range."

This was a particularly exciting hunt for Josh, it being his first archery bull. "So grateful to get this beast alongside my dad. God is good!" said Josh. Great job guys!

That is called:
"Grocery shopping, like a man."
